

SEC Thailand’s public hearing on the proposed rules prohibiting digital asset businesses from providing services in a manner which facilitates or supports the use of digital assets as a means of payment for goods and services

The Securities and Exchange Commission, Thailand (“SEC”) is seeking public comments on the proposed rules prohibiting digital asset businesses from providing services in a manner which facilitates or supports the use of digital assets as a means of payment for goods and services. The proposed rules will be applied to all types of digital asset businesses. This aims to prevent extensive risks to the general public or the economic and financial system that could occur in the event that the use of digital assets as a means of payment for goods and services becomes widespread.
